PROBE MADE BY CORONER'S JURY INTO SHOOTING

Walter Johnson, Colored, Probably Inflicted Wound, Says Jury.

TEN PERSONS TESTIFY

Death Due To Gun Shot Wound In Abdomen, Dr. Powell Tells the Jury.

After hearing the testimony of ten witnesses a coroner's jury which met last night at Demaine's mortuary chapel to investigate the circumstances attending the death of Charles Ferris, colored, who died Friday at the Alexandria Hospital, gave a verdict to the effect that he came to his death by a gunshot wound probably inflicted by Walter Johnson, colored, October 28 at 9:20 o'clock a. m., and died at the Alexandria Hospital November 4.

The jury was composed of the following: Thomas Chauncey, foreman, D. G. Grillbortzer, Kenneth W. Ogden, Carter H. Smith, C. Wingate Summers, and Wilmer Scott.

Walter Johnson the man charged by the police with the shooting, was brought before the jury. He did not, however, testify.

Dr. Llewellyn Powell told the jury that Ferris died from a gunshot wound in the abdomen.

According to N. O. Fitzgerald he was nearly a square awav at the time and was attracted by pistol shots and saw four men apparently engaged in a scuffle. Witness heard two shots afterward and he said he saw the prisoner fire.

Police Sergt. W. J. Wilkinson said the trouble he learned started over a dog the day before. Ferris he testified when seen at the hospital denied having a gun. The sergeant told of the investigation made and the arrest following the affray.

James Clark heard the shots. The prisoner he said fired at two others. During the shooting some one was throwing bricks he said.

Policeman Lawrence Padgett testified that he and Policeman Carlton Padgett captured Johnson at the south end of Hunting Creek bridge a short time after the shooting; that Johnson first denied it and afterward admitted the shooting and that when taken to police headquarters he had a pistol in his possession.

Policeman Haywood Durrer told of bringing the injured men to the hospital and that William Johnson, brother of the risoner, told him that he was shot by his brother, Walter Johnson.

Rose Jackson, colored, testified that she lives near the scene of the shooting and she ran to her front door and heard a woman say, "Don't shoot." Witness said she saw Walter Johnson fire two times and afterward he ran into her yard.

Sarah Wilson, colored, denied seeing or hearing anything other than seeing the crowd when she came to her front door. She denied that she was the woman who said: "Don't shoot."

Witness was severely grilled by the jurymen but her testimony was not shaken. She was ordered held as an important witness in order to appear in court today and give bond.

Chief of Police Goods said he took the pistol from Johnson when he was brought to headquarters. The chief said he had learned that the pistol had been stolen by Johnson from a colored man named Harris.

FUNERAL THURSDAY

The funeral of Edwin E. Padgett, a former resident, who died yesterday at his residence, 714 Tenth street, southeast, Washington, will take place at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon from Wheatley's mortuary chapel. Services will be conducted by Rev. Edgar Carpenter, rector of Grace Episcopal Church. Members of Alexandria Lodge of Elks, of which he was a member, will attend. The deceased was forty-six years old and is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lillian Kaus Padgett, and his mother, Mrs. Harriet C. Padgett.

Will Stage Performance First Week In December

The Columbian Players at a meeting held Sunday decided to stage a vaudeville show the first week in December.

Arrangements are under way to secure as an added attraction one of Broadway's famous stars to produce a big act as a special feature. The consent of this star has already been secured, it only rests with a date that will be satisfactory to all concerned.

Tonight at Lyceum Hall the Columbian Players' Orchestra will tender a complimentary dance to the members of St. Mary's and St. Rita's parishes. A big crowd is expected. There will be no charge of any kind.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 8.—In his capacity as former commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States in the World War, Woodrow Wilson will receive a big share of the honors of Armistice Day according to plans now being made by women leaders of all parties at present in the National Capital.

Following the ceremonies at Arlington on Friday in honor of America's unknown soldier, a delegation of women will march to the home of Mr. Wilson on S street to express appreciation of his activities as a soldier and statesman of the war period.

That Mr. Wilson, on receiving the delegation, may break the silence on political questions to which he has firmly adhered since leaving the White House.

In the call of the women issued for the demonstration this appears:

"No man in the world rendered more valiant or effective service to humanity, either in his capacity as a soldier or as a statesman, in bringing the great war to a successful conclusion and making possible the Armistice which forms the subject of the ceremonies on Nov. 11."

Another lively round in the battle over the Campbell-Willis anti-beer bill is scheduled to take place in the Senate this week. As soon as the tax bill is out of the way, Senator Sterling, of South Dakota, leader of the radical "drys" will move to resume consideration of the anti-beer bill. He has ready a cloture petition to lay before Vice President Coolidge in an endeavor to put an end to the filibuster which has already delayed passage of the bill for four months. It is doubtful, however, if the Senator can muster the necessary two-thirds to enforce cloture upon the Senate. In addition to those Senators who are known to be against the anti-beer bill there are those who are constitutionally opposed to cloture and the "wet" forces are confident that they can collect sufficient strength to block any effort to shut off debate on the anti-beer bill.

The citizens of Alexandria are to be given an opportunity to pay their simple tribute to the unknown American dead, whose body is now on its way to the National Capital on board the protected cruiser Olympia, noted as being Admiral Dewey's flagship. The latest reports received at the Navy Department today were that the Olympia is due to pass into the Virginia Capes some time this afternoon and is due to arrive in Washington about three o'clock Wednesday afternoon. This should provide for the passing of the Olympia off Alexandria about two or two-thirty Wednesday afternoon. It is the desire of the Navy Department in Washington that every mark of respect should be paid by the citizens of Alexandria to the body of the unknown hero which is being brought to Washington to be interred in its final resting place. The correspondent of the Gazette will be notified by the Navy Department of the exact time when the cruiser Olympia will pass Alexandria on its way to the Washington Navy Yard and it is hoped that its citizens will take advantage of this opportunity to do homage to the one who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War.

The United States Army at the present time consists of about 138,000 officers and men, of whom 18,000 roundly, are officers. This amounts approximately to one officer for every seven men. This apparently inequality between the number of officers and men is due, military experts explain, to the present army policy of maintaining an army capable of rapid expansion in time of war. The theory is, and the policy was approved by Congress after long discussion, that the ranks of the various organizations should be filled in time of need from the citizenship of the nation.

Just before the United States entered the war, when the army consisted of 100,000 officers and men, between 5,000 and 6,000 were officers. Therefore, the number of officers now on the rolls is about three times as great. The authorized strength of the army as provided in the last army bill is 150,000.

Despite the assertion and charges made by Senator Watson, of Georgia that American soldiers in France were hanged on the scaffold without so much as a trial, Secretary of War Weeks still maintains that but 10 American soldiers were executed during the World War, all of them after fair and impartial trial. Not a single soldier was shot for any offense whatever, says the Secretary. And the merry battle still wages.

The Retail Credit Men's Association Committee of the Retail Merchants' Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce held its regular meeting last night with twelve of its members present. Credits were discussed in general, and the subject of bad check cashers was also brought up. It was stated that several bad checks had been passed since the last meeting of the Association. It was decided that if one mrchant should cash such a check, he should, upon discovery, notify the secretary who would in turn notify all members and thus evade the casher if not apprehend him.

LIGHT VOTE BEING POLLED IN ELECTION

Unusually Serene Condition Around the Polls Today.

POLLS CLOSE AT 5:01

Estimated By Some That Vote May Not Be Over 2,000—Democrats Will Be Winners.

A light vote is being polled here. Despite the fact that weather conditions are ideal little or no interest is apparent in today's contest. The election officials at the four voting places report that it has been one of the most listless elections they have witnessed for many years. There were few persons around the polls.

There was a spurt in voting when the polls opened at sunrise and this continued till about 9 o'clock and since then the votes have been coming in one at a time. Many women of the city, however, participated in today's contest. The majority of the women voted this afternoon. The polls will close promptly at one minute after five o'clock this afternoon. It is expected that the vote will be known about 9 o'clock. The ticket is a long one containing the names of not only the state officers but also all of the local state officials.

The Democrats will win out by a substantial majority and the local candidates have a clean sweep. The Democrats have absolutely no apprehension over the outcome.

It is predicted by the Republicans that their candidate for governor, Col. Henry W. Anderson, will make a better showing here than any previous Republican candidate for governor.

It was predicted around the polls today that the vote will be less than 2,500 which was predicted yesterday by those in a position to know.

Early this afternoon it was predicted that not more than 2,000 votes would be polled.

Olympia To Pass Here at 3:30 Tomorrow Afternoon

[Special Dispatch to Te Gazette.]

Washington, November 8.—Olympia, bearing the body of the unknown warrier, it is expected, will reach Washington about 4 o'clock tomorrow and should pass here about 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Tomorrow's Ceremonies

Between the hours of two and three o'clock tomorrow afternoon every man, woman and child whose duties permit should line the waterfront to pay due homage to the Unknown Dead whose body will be borne up the Potomac on board the Olympia in preparation for interment in Arlington Cemetery on Armistice Day.

The commandant of the U. S. Torpedo Station, Commander McKittrick, states that the wharf will be open to the public for the occasion and that he will post a guard of honor composed of enlisted men stationed at the plant to do homage to our dead.

The guard under Captain Larimer will present arms and stand at attention while the funeral ship is passing and the colors will be at half mast and taps will be sounded.

At present the Chamber of Commerce is attempting to secure the services of a suitable band to play the National Anthem on the occasion. All military musical units which might be available under ordinary conditions being on duty in Washington, it will fall upon a civilian organization to furnish the necessary music. Captain George Evans is bending every effort to secure one.

Following conferences held today with city officials, representatives of civic, commercial and other organizations, Mayor Duncan formerly requests that all flags within the city be placed at half mast tomorrow, Wednesday, and further requests and urges all citizens to suspend business for a brief period when the city bells begin tolling at shortly after two o'clock and that employers and employees go to the river front to pay silent, reverential and patriotic respect to the Unknown Soldier whose body is being conveyed to the National Capitol for burial at Arlington on Armistice Day.

The school children at the sound of the first bell will go to the hill on Lee street just south of Wilkes street, where under the guidance of the faculty they will stand at attention while the United States warship "Olympia" passes.

Arrangements have been perfected to receive official report of the movement of the "Olympia" from the commanding officer of the United States Marine camp at Quantico and the tolling of the bells will be timed so as to give all citizens the opportunity to answer this call to duty.

In this connection it is requested that no whistles be blown. Teh bells will be tolled as soon as the Olympia passes Fort Washington which will allow ample time for every one wishing to do so to reach the waterfront before the ship reaches Alexandria.

WANT RECEIVER FOR VA-SHIP CO DISCHARGED

Ask Judge Groner To Set Date for Motion Soon.

LOCAL COUNSEL PLANS

Meeting of Alexandria Lawyers Holding Claims Against Company Set for Friday Afternoon.

Counsel for the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation yesterday telegraphed Judge D. Lawrence Groner, Norfolk, asking him for a date for hearing a motion asking the court to discharge the receiver, Joseph L. Crupper, who was appointed receiver for this corporation last Saturday by Judge Groner in Norfolk, Va. Judge J. K. M. Norton stated today that he has not yet heard from his telegram.

A meeting of the attorneys in this city representing claims pending against the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation will be held at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon in the corporation court room, Judge Robinson Moncure presiding, to consider what action will be taken in connecton with these claims. It is stated that the Alexandria attorneys represent claims amounting to about $250,000. As heretofore stated Judge D. Lawrence Groner of the United States Court for the Eastern District of Virginia has appointed Joseph L. Crupper, state chairman of the republican party in Virginia, receiver for this company, and Mr. Crupper yesterday qualified as such and gave a bond in the sum of $20,000. The news caused a stir among the local attorneys who had claims pending, many not knowing of the appointment of Mr. Crupper till late yesterday.

The company's yards here cost approximately $3,000,000 it is stated. During the war and after the war a large number of 9400 ton steel freight were build here by this company, and the last one is now on the ways at the wharf of the company's plant.

The plant on December 10 last, had a destructive fire which wiped out the big storage warehouse causing a loss of about $270,000.

BIG DOINGS PLANNED BY KIWANIANS

Judge Brown, of Washington To Make Address Thursday.

"FATHER AND SON"

Luncheon To Be Held Promptly At 12:30 P. M.—Special Program Planned for Event.

Judge Willis Brown, the world's greatest juvenile delinquency expert, of Washington, will make the address at the Kiwanis "father and son" banquet Thursday. Judge Brown enjoys perhaps the distinction of having more boy friends than any man in the country; as a result of his long experience as their friend in the juvenile court of Salt Lake Lake City.

After serving in the capacity of judge of that court for a long period he became so popular as a platform man that he eventually had to give all of his time to public work. It was while making chautauqua addresses in the west many years ago that Secretary Wallace of the Y. M. C. A., made his acquaintance and it was he that secured the Judge for the address Thursday.

During the last few years the Judge has made his home in Washington and is now the editor of a very popular boy's page in one of the Capitol's newspapers where he has already made a great many friends among the youngsters. During the past summer he spent a great deal of his time down on the Potomac where he had an ideal camp.

There is quite a scrambling among the members of the Kiwanis Club for "sons" as many of them have none of their own and have to "manage" for one. It is understood that there will be a great disparity of ages among the sons as some of them have sons of very tender age and Secretary Wallace said he would O. K. a son, even if he were only a week old.

The luncheon, as usual, will be held promptly at twelve thirty, and will close at one thirty, but it is understood that there will be a wonderful program crowded into that one hour.

STATE NEWS

Winchester.—"The Supreme Court of the United States has decided there is no race discrimination in the Virginia suffrage clause," declared Congressman Thomas W. Harrison, of the Seventh Virginia district, in addressing a Democratic meeting at White Hall last night, replying to Republican criticisms of discrimination. Recalling that when he went to the Virginia Senate many years ago there were two negroes representing the "best white blood in the State, and a dozen negroes in the House of Delegates." In some of the Southern Virginia counties there was not a white man holding office. In order to hold control, the whites in many counties had to resort to methods which good men deplored. This resulted in the Constitutional convention.

Winchester.—Close to 1,000 hunting licenses have been issued by court clerks here during the last week, and it has been necessary to send to Richmond for more forms. Game continues plentiful and hunters are returning from fields and woods with full quotas of quail, phenasant and wild turkeys. City Solicitor Philip Williams shot and killed two wild turkeys yesterday afternoon while returning home from several hours hunt. Rabbits are so plentiful that they can be killed by standing in one spot and waiting for them to jump up like flies around a sugar barrel.

Hampton.—Nine big fifty-gallon stills and 4,055 gallons of mash were recovered by the police officers of Hampton, Newport News, Warwick County and Elizabeth City county in the Scone's Dam section yesterday afternoon. The officers failed to locate any men around the stills, but were rewarded with finding the cookers, coils and mash in full play for service.

Newport News.—In disposing of the wreck of the Lake Calvenia the Fred E. Jones Dredging company, holders of the War Department contract for the job will dredge 100 feet below the surafceof the water, a far greater depth than to which dredging operations have ever been carried hereabouts.

Lynchburg.—Ten crippled children went to Richmond Saturday evening from here for treatment by Dr. W. T. Graham, state orthopedist. The arrangements for treatment were made by the orthopedic clinic committee of the Woman's Club here.

Sewing Society Sale of St. Paul's Thursday

The annual sale under the auspices of the Ladies' Sewing Society of St. Paul's Church will be held in the Parish Hall Thursday November 10th from two to five o'clock.

Many attractive fancy articles will be for sale suitable for Christmas gifts.

A feature of the sale will be the children's corner. Come and be convinced.

Prize Competition in American History

The Knights of Columbus have inaugurated a most worthy project for stimulating an interest in American history. Incidentally, too, it is designed to counteract the undermining propaganda now being promulgated in many parts of the country. Among other admirable features is the offering of prizes for the best original studies in American history. There are five classes in which contestants may enter and the prizes range from $500 to $3,000. We think it entirely possible for an Alexandrian to win one of these prizes, and are sure that the local body of Knights of Columbus would be glad to furnish all the information necessary for entrance.

Our Water Front Section

The appearance of Alexandria's water front is little short of disgraceful. Tin cans, bottles, broken glass, rubbish and debris of all kinds litter up the approaches and the front itself. We are of the impression that a committee of the Civic Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce was appointed some time since, to inaugurate a "Clean Up Day." It is too late to remedy this condition in time for tomorrow, but we hope it will be attended to before another occasion calls for a decent appearance of our water front.

BRIAND, FRENCH ENVOY, GREETED BY BIG CROWDS

Declares Himself Ready To Help American Aims In Arms Conference.

VERY INFORMAL

Will Ask Assurance of United States Support Against Future German Attack.

The French delegation to the limitation of arms conference arrived in Washington by special train shortly before 5 o'clock last evening having made the trip from New York in four and one-half hours.

An imposing reception had been arranged to welcome M. Briand and his conferees, Secretary of State Hughes and Mrs. Hughs, and Gen. Pershing being among those at the station.

In the esplanade in front of the Union Station several troops of cavalry were drawn up with sabers at the salute, and a military band broke into the "Stars and Stripes" as Hughes led M. Briand, Vivian Sarrut and Ambassador Jusserand outside.

The party lined up, civilians bareheaded and the military and naval officers at attention while the band played the national air and the photographers took innumerable snapshots and the movie men turned miles of film.

A big crowd cheered the French premier as he entered the first automobile with Mme. Viviani and Mr. and Mrs. Hughes to be driven to the New Willard Hotel.

M. Viviani, M. Sarraut and several State Department officials were in the next car. Admiral DeBon, chief of staff of the French navy, and several American naval officers followed.

The French premier is an unusual figure, or appeared to be so as he walked by the side of Hughes. He is less than the average in height, rather stockily built and stoop shouldered. His hair is of nondescript gray, worn brushed back over his ears, and he has a heavy mustache of the same color as his hair.

In spite of the contrast in their heights, M. Briand conveyed an impression of strength in the breadth of his shoulders. And in his manner there was a buoyancy, a confidence as if he is embarking on a venture and knows just exactly where it will lead.

There is nothing mysterious about him. He was unassumingly attired in a business suit, in striking contrast to the formal garb of many of the American delegation of welcome. He was even democratic and dispensed with such formality as he could, both during the rousing welcome he received when he emerged from the station and when he received a large number of visitors after his arrival at his hotel.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Two Men Give Bond—Two Large Stills Captured.

Calvin Neal and Charles Lee, both colored, the latter a youth, today in the police court were held for the action of the grand jury for an alleged violation of the state prohibition law. Bond in the sum of $500 was given by each.

Policemen Magner and Durrer testified that yesterday they went to a house in the rear of Neal's place on Pendleton street and recovered two stills.

One has a capacity of about forty gallons and one about thirty gallons according to the police. In addition it was testified that the police also captured about a gallon and a half of corn liquor, a new oil stove, a box of dried peaches and forty or fifty empty whiskey flasks and a quantity of peach mash. All of the articles excent the stills were on Neal's premises Policeman Magner said. Attorney Charles Henry Smith appeared for the accused.

HELD AS WITNESS

Bond In Sum of $.1000 Asked In Case Of Sarah Wilson Colored

Sarah Wilson, colored, living at 526 South Pitt street, today was held in $1,000 bail bond by Police Justice Snow as an important state witness in the case of Walter Johnson, colored, held for the shooting and killing of Charles Ferris, colored.

The woman last night appeared before a coroner's jury and Dr. T. M. Jones ordered her held for investigation. The woman, however, denied phatically that she knew anything regarding the case. Her testimony was that after the shooting had occurred she came to her front door but knew nothing further. Witness also told the jury that she did not hear the shots fired and emphatically denied that she was the woman who is alleged to have cried, "Don't shoot."

SUPERPOWER REPORT

One of the most interesting documents that has come to our attention recently, is the Report of the Superpower Survey just submitted to President Harding. It contains the results of an engineering study made by the United States Geological Survey. It seems that Congress wisely made an appropriation for this work, designating the labor to be performed as a "special investigation of the possible economy of fuel, labor, and material resulting from the use in the Boston-Washington region, of a comprehensive system for generating and distributing electricity to transportation lines and industries."

The published report is now issued from the Government press, and displays a wealth of technical information in the form of statistical tables, test figures, and maps, which open up new and magnificent vistas for the future of the Atlantic coast states.

The superpower project has its significance in the saving of coal and the increasing of the productivity of labor. In these times of tremendous competition among nations, anything that makes for greater and cheaper production and better and cheaper transportation, is of vital importance. The electrification of industries and railroads seems to be the solution of this breathless problem. To connect all the large generating plants on the Atlantic Coast—both steam and water power—in one gigantic system, means more and cheaper electric current, because each ton of coal will be used to the best advantage, and our hundreds of idle streams made to turn thousands of now non-existing wheels.

According to the report the total amount of coal that could be saved by the year 1930, would be about fifty million tons. Under motor operation the industries would save $190,000,000 annually in their power bill and would yield a far greater output. The ordinary citizen will likewise profit directly by the superpower system since it promises a reduction of one cent per kilowatt hour in the first cost of the current as put on the transmission lines. Cheaper electricity means more comfort to the home, and greater efficiency to the workshop.

The Report discloses the fact that most of the manufacturing plants in this region can purchase power cheaper than they can manufacture it. That if they had purchased it in 1919, for instance, they would have saved thirteen and one-half million tons of coal. By 1930 the complete electrification of the manufacturing and mining plants in this area would show an annual saving of $190,000,000, as stated, over and above the fixed charges against an investment of $185,000,000 for motor equipment. The railroads, by electrification, would save 9,000,000 tons of coal yearly, which would incidentally increase the available car supply. The abolition of smoke and cinders, and the noise of steam locomotives would likewise prove a blessing to the public.

All in all, the Report is a monumental work of information. The United States Geological Survey deserves all honor and credit for its painstaking and laborious compilation. This Bureau, by the way, is one of the most efficient bodies in the world today. Its staff, composed of hundreds of brainy scientists, is remarkable for devotion to public service, for patriotic performance of duty, for incessant and never-ending labor, done on wages that would cause a union strike in twenty-four hours. Our masons and carpenters and plumbers are better paid and have shorter hours. Some day we hope a just government will recognize this fact. We do not say a generous government—for all governments, and ours especially, are notoriously niggardly and penurious.

But to get back to this epoch-making Report—It is one of the few things for which we have to thank Congress—generally occupied in wind-jamming, log-rolling, and self-glorification. Unless we mistake ourselves, the U. S. Geological Survey has started something that will some day be worth billions to the Atlantic Coast, from Boston to Alexandria.

Vocational Rehabilitation Service

On June 27, 1918, the act providing for re-education or rehabilitation of persons disabled in service was passed by Congress. Up to date 90,000 ex-service men have been placed in training and hundreds are still applying daily.

Every home service section in the country has assisted to an incalculable degree in realizing these results by explaining to the men what the Government offers them, assisting them in applying for training, persuading them of its advantages when they are loath to leave home, and making it possible for them to go to school by assuring necessary care for their families should emergencies arise during their absenc. Some of the men are even outfitted with clothing and supplied with cash in their pocket so that they may begin their training and live comfortably until their Government checks come. Scarcely a man has entered training who has not had one or all of these services. Not less than $150,000 in loans to such men are outstanding all the time, with repayments coming in continually.

Men who accept training are allowed by the Government maintenance for themslves and support for their families. There is unavoidable delay in the receipt of these checks and many times emergencies arise which the check is inadquate to cover. The Red Cross for nearly three years has loaned to these men money to meet such emergencis. Recently the Government provided a fund for making loans to men in training. The Red Cross has outstanding today not less than $200,000 in loans to these men.

Considerable numbers of men must receive their training under medical care since they have not fully recovered in health. For this group schools called Resident Training Centers are provided by the Government in isolated communities far from the heat, dust and noise of cites. To many reared always in great cities, the quiet and lonesomeness is overwhelming. The need for wholsome recreation which the Govrnment has no funds to provide was felt. The Red Cross is meeting this need by supplying recreational equipment for this group of men thus assuring greater content to remain until training and recuperation are complete.

Every month during the last year the American Red Cross has been in touch wth an average of 129,215 ex-service men and their families.

It rendered home service every month to the families of 14,574 men of the peace-time Army and Navy.

General Summary of Work for Month of October

Nine cases of typhoid fever were reported during the past month. Four of these cases were outside infections, and one was a contact case, that is the disease was caused by contact with another member of the family who was suffering with tyhoid.

Several of the above cases were taken sick in September, but diagnosis of typhoid was not made until the first week in October, hence they had to be put on the record for this month.

There have been numerous more or less serious outbreaks of typhoid in various sections of the country, but we have only the few scattered cases noted above.

We had one mild case of diphtheria during the month. This makes a total of only four cases since January 1st last. No cases of scarlet fever, measles, chickenpox or smallpox have been found within the city limits.

This is a record we can well be proud of and we only hope we will be able to hold off these prevalent diseases still longer.

General Sanitary Work

We accomplished quite a lot of important general sanitary work during the month.

110 nuisances were abated. 17 sewer connections made. 14 privy wells were closed. 170 complaints were investgated and such action taken as each case required. 5 can-type privies were removed and replaced by sewer connectons. 3 petitions for sewer extentions were prepared for presentation to city councils.

223 inspections of restaurants, stores and other food and drink handling establishments were made. 1,395 pounds of meats were condemned and destroyed as being unfit for human consumption, during the month of October.

28 inspections were made of dairies supplying milk to our city.

The careful attention that has been given to all of these matters, together with the many other things fully noted in the detailed report, indicates that your Health Department has to do and does actually accomplish a large amount of general and special work, and all of it of the most importance in protecting the public health.

No drones can stay in this Department.

Laboratory Work

We made 655 examinations in our laboratory during October. This is about our usual average, though it is five more than last month.

22 tests were made of our city water, and I am pleased to state that it came through with a perfectly clean sheet for the month.

We also made 66 tests of milk taken from the various dairies that supply the city.

The other tests are duly noted in the detailed laboratory report.

Public Health Nurse

A considerable portion of the month's work consisted in assisting at the examination of 535 school children. Nine visits to the schools were made for this purpose. This work will continue as time permits.

A total of 55 investigation, instruction, nursing and infant welfare visits were also made during the month, together with the various other work fully noted in the detailed report.

It has been a very busy month for our nurse.

Venereal Clinic

In our venereal clinic, during the month of October, we had 50 patients and gave a total of 503 treatments. This is 40 more treatments than we gave during the previous month.

Free Public Clinic For Poor

In this clinic we gave a total of 105 treatments to poor people of our city who were unable to pay for such attention.

This will indicate that the poor of our city are well looked after by this Department.

General Health of the City

Outside of the 9 cases of typhoid noted in the first part of this summary, we have been practically free from the various other contagious diseases.

Taken as a whole, the general health of the city during the month of October was very good when we consider the population of more than 18,000.

UNION SERVICES

To Be Held At Trinity M. E. Church 7:30 P. M.

The attendance at these services is continually growing in numbers. Last night the Rev. Robert Browne pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church preached to a large congregation, taking his text from second book of King's fifth chapter, tenth verse, "Go and wash in Jordan seven times and thy flesh shall come again to thee and thou shalt be clean." This was a great sermon delivered in a forceful way. Some of the many things the preacher said, was that pride and selfishness weer our biggest enemies, especially a proud selfrighteous church member.

At the close of the sermon a number of young men came forward to the altar and decided to lead a Christian life.

Many in the congregation raised their hands for prayers.

Tonight, the Rev. Edgar G. Carpenter, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, will be the preacher. Don't miss these services, this is the last week of them in this church. Rev. D. H. Martin, D. D., and Rev. Robert Browne will conduct the service. Everybody welcome. Come.

COCAINE WORTH $3,000

Washington Police Hold Alexandria Man On Charge

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—Edgar Fields, 40 years old, an employe of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, who resides at 1607 King street, Alexandria, Va., was arrested yesterday in the police drug crusade. Detectives Evans, Saunders and Rauskin, of the narcotic squad, who took Fields into custody, say he had in his possession five bottles of cocaine valued at $3,000. Fields was taken to the Tenth precinct, where he was held without bonds for his appearance before United States Commissioner Isaac Hitt.

The police say that cocaine valued at $20,000 has been sold here recently. They add that there are 2,000 drug addicts in Washington.

Fields returned recently to this country from a tour of the world which he made on a vessel of the Shipping Board. The police believe that the $3,000 worth of drugs seized were smuggled into this country. The prisoner was charged with violating the Harrison narcotic law and illegal possession of cocaine.

Early in January, 1918, the work of building the company's plant was begun. The plant comprises forty-five acres with modern steel and concrete ways. The shipyard has practically been closed as far as active work is concerned for nearly a year past.

ABOUT THE HOUSE
by R. S.

Most children rebel against gloomy days, especially when they are "on the inside looking out," so it follows that one resourceful mother hit upon a plan of bringing the sunshine to the children even when the weather was dark and threatening without. From a small unused room she improvised a nursery, or playroom. Instead of purchasing the expensive furniture of the shops, she bought plain, unfinished tables and chairs, one a little rocker, and carried out her color scheme of "canned sunshine" by painting woodwork and furniture a pale golden yellow, then applying a coat of enamel of the same shade. The walls were painted an old blue. Included in the list of furnishings was a cupboard for toys, and book shelves containing all the old favorites for children as well as the modern books so dear to the fancy of the little ones of today. The curtains were of plain cream washable material, with over drapes of bright cretonne in yellow, soft reds and blues. The rugs, braided and round in shape, exhibited the same colors. Even the tea set was of soft yellow pottery, likewise the nested mixing bowls. At a casual glance, this scheme might sound too "bilious," as indeed it might be for a grown person's room, but the children called it their "Sunshine Room," and for them it was delightful.

The most beautiful of all hangings for the undecided housekeeper, are those of silk poplin, that material which drapes itself in soft graceful folds and comes in such exquisite shades suitable for the formal room as well as the homey living room and library. Beautiful new materials for hangings and draperies have been developed from kapok, which is the silkly fibre of the nod of a tree growing in South and Central America. This product is perhaps better known as the unsinkable material used as fillings for boat cushions, life preservers, etc.

One unusual lamp recently seen on the big table of a comfortable livingroom had a commodious bowl of blue porclain of that clear, soft blue, topped with a shade of pale yellow parchment perfectly plain; but the combination more than made up for any decorations that might have adorned it.

At an afternoon tea served in one of Delaware's famous tea houses, the linen pieces were plain squares with inch wide hems, double machine-stitched with black thread, simulating hemstitching. The hostess had picked up this idea, she explained, from a tea house near Boston, also noted for the excellency of its cuisine and unusual appointments.

One out of the ordinary offering for the coming holiday season is a "barometer flower," a mysterious potted plant with tulip like blossom. blue in color, but which turns a lovely pink when announcing a storm.

One of the most useful little Christmas gifts I ever received and which continues to do duty after five years have passed was made this way: Hem a length of ribbon. about six inches wide and three-quarters of a yard long, at each end. Gather each edge and pull up tightly, fastening thread securely. Sew on loop for hanging, of ...w ribbon. This is the bag part, The utility comes from the supply of lingerie ribbon with which it is filled, and the two ribbon botkins of different sizes. The ribbon is "fed" through the small opening made by the fullness.

While this column deals essentially with things "about the house," it will not be out of place to occasionally add some suggestion for things about the yard, also. It has been called to our attention that just now is the proper time to plant shrubs. Horticultural experts are advising that the fall is the best time to plant, the principal reason being that the plant is thus allowed to become acclimated to the new soil throughout the fall and winter months, therefore will begin to bloom with the first signs of spring.

Alice Paul, militant suffragette, and youngest of National Suffrage leaders, was born in Mooretown, N. J., of Quaker stock, in 1885. After finishing high school course in a Quaker school she launched on a career of higher education combined with an earnest study of politics, particularly that branch dealing with suffrage and economic questions concerning women. She was graduated from Swarthmore College and the N. Y. School of Philanthropy. Pennsylvania University conferred upon Alice Paul the degrees of M. A. and Ph. D. Later in England she took special work in the Universities of Birmingham and London. Becoming radically interested in the conditions existing in England, she took active part in the demonstrations there at the time Mrs. Pankhurst was experiencing hunger strikes for the cause. In 1913 Miss Paul was appointed chairman of the Congressional Committee of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, organizing the first demonstrative procession held in Washington. Through her efforts the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage was made an independent organization in 1914. She formed the National Woman's party in 1916, which was the first woman's political party. Six terms in prison including hunger strikes have been Miss Paul's contribution to Suffrage. Her work is based on the theory that suffrage is not a game of politics, but enfranchised power to give women a larger place in National affairs.

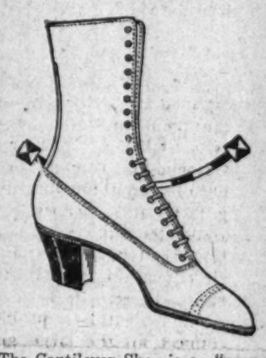
A Shoe for Comfort

The feet are one of the important nerve centers of the body. Prominent nerve specialists often start their treatment on the feet of their patients This shows how important it is to wear comfortable, good-fitting shoes.

You take from 4,000 to 8,000 steps a day. Think what that means to your feet! If the shoe is not designed and constructed to harmonize perfectly with your foot, four thousand times a day the nerves must suffer. It's no wonder a bad pair of shoes can tire you out.

"The foot is a cantilever spring so made that when it is allowed to function normally it carries the body with the greatest possible ease and resilience"—Dr. Douglas Stewart, one of New York's leading specialists. "Proper shoes are essential for the proper function of the foot."—Dr. Wilmer Krusen, head of the Department of Public Health of Philadelphia.



The Cantilever Shoe is a "proper" shoe, and it is so modish that you are proud to wear it. The arch is flexible, like the arch of your foot. The fit is snug but true. The toes are not crowded. The heels are high enough to be graceful and sensible but not too high.

Cantilever comfort is so real that your feet are "off your mind" and you can enjoy life. Come to us and get fitted and begin now to enjoy Cantilever comfort.

SATURDAY, OCT. 30, 1813.

Geneva, (N. Y.) Oct. 27,

Yesterday an express from Gen. Harrison, passed through this village on his way to Sackett's Harbor. He left Buffaloe on Sunday afternoon and informs that Com. Perry, with part of his squadron, having on board Gen. Harrison and a number of troops, arrived off Buffalo that day. General Harrison immediately landed, but the troops remained on board when the express left there. He also informs that Gen. Proctor and the noted Indian warrior, Tecumseh, with a few men, made their escape and joined Gen. Vincent at the head of Lake Ontario.

The Present World Situation

(From "The Watchman.")

The Scriptures definitely and clearly foretell an event which they designate, "the end of the world." This term, "the end of the world," does not mean the annihilation of the planet on which we live. It means the end of the age in which we live, or the end of the conditions of the world as we know and experience them. It means the end of the present state and existence of the human race.

The Scriptures also very clearly describe the most significant conditions that will be dominating mankind as the end approaches. Here are the most notable predictions:

1. Destructive wars among nations, attended by famine and pestilence.—Luke 21:10, 11.

2. Great industrial conflicts between employers and their laborers.—James 5:1-5.

3. General moral degeneracy throughout the world.—Luke 17:26.

4. Serious spiritual decadence resulting in empty form without a reality in the life of professors of godliness.—2 Tim. 3:1-5.

5. Troubles and perils throughout the world such as were never known before, bringing distress and perplexity upon nations, causing men's hearts to fail them for fear and for looking after those things that are coming on the earth.—Luke 21:25, 26; Daniel 12:1.

6. The world-wide proclamation of the gospel as the sure remedy for this situation.—Matt. 24:14; Rev. 14:6-14.

Centuries have passed since these predictions were recorded. Today the very conditions foretold are here, and in an acute form. All the nations of earth are experiencing exactly what the prophets foretold would come upon the world in its closing days.

With what interest should we turn to the Biblical interpretation of our times, and place by its side the conditions that now dominate the world and fill the hearts of its great leaders with alarm.

War, Famine and Pestilence.

Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there shall be great earthquakes, and in divers places famines and pestilences."—Luke 21:10,11.

With what painful accuracy is this prediction being fulfilled! We have just passed through the most terrible war the world has ever known. Nearly every nation on the earth was drawn into the deadly conflict. It brought devastation to Europe with its five hundred millions of people. It well nigh brought ruin to the whole world. It set free destructive influences and movements that are perpetuating discord, violence, and bloodshed throughout the world.

Ever since the signing of the Armistice there has been in progress the greatest movement to establish a lasting peace ever set on foot by men. Yet there is no real peace, and bloodshed has continued in the world. Veteran correspondents of the most reliable character tell us that we are facing the gravest situation imaginable.

Even the great endeavors to establish peace have created perplexing complications. Reviewing recent developments one of Europe's greatest statesmen says:

"The year 1919 was the year of great mistakes. . . . The year of 1920 has been the year of great uncertainties. . . . It is not easy to say what 1921 will be like, but it is unfortunately only too easy to affirm that if some great human voice does not rise above the conflicts of minds to point out the true way of peace, the terrible decadence of Europe will be still more accentuated."

This leader makes public the opinions and feelings of many. An English bishop expressed the fear that "it will be only a comparatively short time before the world will again be in the throes of a conflict so terrible that the recent war will have been as a storm in a teacup by comparison."

But war, as terrible as it is, is only a part of the evil that befalls men as the end approaches. Wars are attended by famines and pestilences. This is a plain and positive prediction of our Lord. Since the great world war closed, millions of our helpless fellow-beings have perished from starvation and pestilences.

Conflicts Between Capital and Labor.

Great industrial conflicts between employers and employees were to constitute one of the serious and dangerous conditions in the end of the world. The prediction is given in these words:

"Come now, ye rich, weep and howl for your miseries that are coming upon you. Your riches are corrupted, and your garments are moth-eaten. Your gold and your silver are rusted; and their rust shall be for a testimony against you, and shall eat your flesh as fire. Ye have laid up your treasure in the last days. Behold, the hire of your laborers who mowed your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth out: and the cries of them that reaped have entered into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth. Ye have lived delicately on the earth and taken your pleasure; ye have nourished your hearts in a day of slaughter."—James 5:1-5.

Who does not see today this prediction in process of fulfilment? The industrial conflict is world-wide. It has come to be one of the world's most bewildering problems. Mr. Herbert Hoover is credited with the statement that "the whole world is groping for the solution of the labor problem. If we can not solve it progressively, our civilization will go back to chaos."

"To whom shall we go at this of world-weariness? Men have every system of human govern every phase of human philos every form of religious cult. I restless sleeper they have tosse lessly on their beds. . . . 'Many be which say, Who shall show u good?' . . . The clouds of revo and searching trial are hurryi

Notice to the Public

As a result of an understanding between officers of the Chamber of Commerce, the Commuters Association, other representative citizens of Alexandria and this Company.

On and after Nov. 12, 1921, there will be on sale at our Ticket Offices at all times, 26 Trip Individual Commutation Tickets. These tickets are good for one person, and for one month from date of issue, at $3.25.

This is an excellent ticket for those who cannot use the regular monthly commutation ticket within the allotted time and a particularly desirable ticket for many of our patrons who do not ride daily, but whose business requires them to go to Washington 8 to 13 times during a period of 30 days; and it is sold at a big reduction under the regular round trip fare.

For example, if you make

13 round trip rides on this ticket, cost per round trip (approx) 25c

12 round trip rides on this ticket, cost per round trip (approx) 27c

11 round trip rides on this ticket, cost per round trip (approx) 29c

10 round trip rides on this ticket, cost per round trip (approx) 33c

9 round trip rides on this ticket, cost per round trip (approx) 36c

8 round trip rides on this ticket, cost per round trip (approx) 40c

while the regular round trip fare is 48 cents plus the war tax.

We will sell this ticket, good between Washington or Alexandria and all other stations on the Mt. Vernon Division at proportional rates.

Call Alexandria 112-J for further information.

A Strong Bond Market

The rapidity with which certain new issues of bonds have been oversubscribed, and the fact that interest rates have shown, during the past few months, a decided tendency toward lower levels, can be taken as evidence of the trend of the bond market.

While bond prices are still low we recommend the purchase of those kinds of bonds that are recognized as the safest, as we believe that the investment demand will center on such issues for months to come.

We have selected for your consideration a list of secured mortgage bonds, essentially Southern, yielding 7 to 9 per cent.

Write for circular if you are interested in what the South can offer.

LITTLE STORIES OF THE STREET
By The Man About Town

How many people know that George Washington was a Marshal of France. Don't all answer at once. We didn't know it either until we ran across the copy of a letter written by George W. P. Custis to the Frederick Examiner dated Arlington House, August 18, 1857, in which that gentleman says:

"The history of the title, Marshal of France, attached to General Washington in 1781, is simply this:—'when, in that year, Col. Laurens went to France as special ambassador, a difficulty arose between him and the French Minister as to the command of the combined armies in America. Our heroic Laurens said 'Our Chief must command; it is our cause and the battle is on our soil.'

'It is impossible,' exclaimed the Frenchman, 'by the etiquette of the French service, the Count De Rochambeau, being an old Lieutenant-General can only be commanded by the King in person, or a Marshal of France.'

'Then! exclaimed Laurens, 'make our Washington a Marshal of France, and the difficulty is at an end,' It was done. A friend of mine heard Washington spoken of as Monsieur le Mareschal, at the siege of Yorktown. Our beloved Washington never coveted or desired rank or title; but it is beyond a doubt that from the force of circumstances just related, the rank and title of Marshal of France was conferred upon the General-in-Chief of the combined armies of France and America."

The letter quoted above merely adds another item to the generally unknown facts concerning the "Father of His Country." The title in itself stands for nothing in America. The fact that the French bestowed that title upon an American shows the confidence and trust reposed in Washington by our allies abroad. So far as we have been able to ascertain the title had never before been so awarded, nor was it ever afterwards conferred upon any save a soldier of France, wearing the uniform of his own country.

An Alexandrian has perfected a contrivance designed to count the number of eggs which a certain hen may lay in a certain length of time. It is built along the lines of a speedometer and attaches to Biddy's leg by aluminum clasps. It will when put upon the market cost about twenty dollars and the patentee alleges that it will be much cheaper to install his contrivance upon your barnyard pets than it will be to hire a boy to keep tabs on your henhouse output with an adding machine. So much for modern scientific achievements.

"What do you think of our present jury system?" inquired the Man About Town of a certain well known attorney while discussing the possibilities of the State securing a conviction in a certain muchly discussed murder case.

"Really it is getting so that if a man should plead guilty to murder and try to get hung the jury would in some way manage to discover a way to acquit him," said the attorney, "and if there happened to be a woman in the case—well you know what chance we have to convict a pretty woman on any sort of a charge from shoplifting to high treason. It simply isn't being done."

Ten million people throughout the United States have been made familiar with the proper preventative measures to adopt in fighting the spread of cancer through the activities of the American Society for the Control of Cancer during Cancer Week.

"Letters are coming from all over the country," writes the society's representative at 25 West Forty-fifth Street, New York City, "asking for specific data and advice in individual cases. Every letter will be answered as soon as we have on opportunity to get to it."

We hope that there isn't a case in this section of the country. But where doubt exists the best policy to pursue is the safety first method.

Amalgam Company Assumes International Importance

Local Concern To Establish Branches Abroad

The Trent Amalgam Company, a newly organized concern which recently leased the plant of the Virginia Shipbuilding Cororation, with the intention of manufacturing a cheaper and better fuel, is now operating on a production basis.

This new substitute for coal is formed by amalgamation of the carbon extracted from the cheaper grades of slack and commercial crude oil through a mechanical process invented and patented by Walter E. Trent.

Charles A. Higgins, Production Superintendent, explained the mechanical processes and demonstrated the operation which is extremely simple and inexpensive. Mr. Higgins states that the city gas works is producing gas and coke from the product of the plant and that they have found it economical and satisfactory. With one half of one unit in operation the Amalgam Company is turning out one hundred and ten tons per day. The necessary equipmnt to double the present production is being rapidly installed.

While the company has been delayed in getting sufficient transportation facilities to accomodate the local demand they are now in shape to handle deliveries in this city and Washington. Industrial plants which have given the fuel a trial have been satisfactorily impressed with its cheapness in comarison with high grade anthracite. Those who have used it for domestic purposes speak favorably of the product. One carload standing in the yards goes to Annapolis. A barge with a capacity of six hundred tons is being loaded for shipment.

The Trent Amalgam Company, through duly authorized agents is building plants in Canada, England, France and Brazil. Mr. Simpson, the Canadian representative of the company is at present in the city consulting Mr. Trent in regard to the activities of the concern in the Dominion.

Mr. Trent states that he expects to develop an immense export trade from this port. The local plant will be expanded as the demand for the fuel increases. With anthracite selling at $15.50 per ton and amalgam, which contains 3000 B. T U. more heat producing qualities than the best grade of coal, retailing for $8.50 per ton delivered the production of amalgam has unlimited possibilites.

F. H. Peyton, Purchasing Agent and Expert Accountant, went into financial details showing the cost of production on a large scale. Mr. Peyton, a native Virginian, has spent many years of his life in the employ of large mining interests in the western part of the United States.

Should the operations of the company assume world wide importance Alexandria will have reason to point with pride to the fact that the first commercial plant for the manufacture of amalgam in the world was operated within her boundaries.

Thin People Should Take Phosphate

Says Nothing Like Plain Argo-Phosphate to Put On Firm, Solid, Stay There Flesh and Muscle and Increase Strength, Vim, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Physicians claim there is nothing that will increase weight, strength and endurance like organic phosphate commonly known by druggists as argo-phosphate; it is inexpensive and is sold by all leading druggists everywhere under a guarantee to give satisfaction or money refunded. Weakness and thinness are usually due to starved nervous conditions.

Our bodies need more phosphates than are contained in the foods we eat. If you wish a more rounded figure a plump well-developed arms, neck and bust in place of hollows you should simply take plain argo-phosphate as it builds up and restores run-down nervous conditions by phosphatizing the system. It transforms the appearance and an increase in weight is often times quickly produced. The increase in weight also aids in improving the general health. Sleeplessness, nervousness, lack of energy and ambition quickly disappear. Pale cheeks are changed to rosy ones and dull eyes become bright.

Miss Lena Brown of Atlanta, Ga., who only weighed 90 pounds reports that she gained 10 pounds in two weeks time and says argo-phosphate has made a different person of her and she has never felt better in her life.

SPECIAL NOTICE:—Owing to the fact that so many physicians and druggists are recommending argo-phosphate there will be found in the market numerous substitutes for the genuine article. All imitations are inferior preparations and owing to its unusual flesh producing qualities it should not be used by any one unless they desire to put on flesh and increase in weight.

CALOMEL SALIVATES EVEN WHEN CAREFUL

Treacherous Drug Can Not Be Trusted and Next Dose may start Trouble

Calomel is dangerous. It may salivate you and make you suffer fearfully from soreness of gums, tenderness of jaws and teeth, swollen tongue and excessive saliva dribbling from the mouth. Don't trust calomel. It is mercury; quicksilver.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomen. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

ABLE TO DO HER WORK

After Long Suffering Mrs. Siefert Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pottsville, Pa.—"I suffered with female trouble for four or five years and was very irregular. I was not fit to do my work at times and took medicine from a doctor and got no benefit. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and took it and got all right. I gained twenty pounds or more and am now able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. SALLIE SIEFERT, 313 W. Fourth Street, Pottsville, Pa.

The everyday life of many housewives is a continual struggle with weakness and pain. There is nothing more wearing than the ceaseless round of household duties and they become doubly hard when some female trouble makes every bone and muscle ache, and nerves all on edge.

If you are one of these women do not suffer for four or five years as Mrs. Siefert did, but profit by her experience and be restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

at the next the full power load

IT IS fine to be sure of quick response when you want to jump your car ahead. It is just as necessary to be able to idle on a low throttle.

It is not so difficult to make a gasoline that will do either of these things well. But to produce a balanced gasoline that does both, that combines power, economy, clean burning and big mileage, took years of experience in refining, experiments with crudes from every producing field, innumerable tests in chemical and physical laboratories, and with thousands of automobiles of all types and under all conditions of service.

This balanced motor fuel is "Standard" Motor Gasoline of surpassing goodness. It is wonderful in volatility, flame speed, completeness of combustion and mileage. It assures quick starts, rapid acceleration and unusual pulling power up heavy grades. Even in cold weather, when less perfectly conditioned gasoline is sluggish, you can operate on a lean, clean-burning, economical mixture of "Standard" Motor Gasoline. Why try your temper with others "just as good"?

And when you need oil say POLARINE. Made with the same care—always right.
